

What makes effective monitoring systems?

- Strong theory of change
- Clear, actionable, useful indicators
- Clear understanding of the value of the data and how it will be used to inform decisions
- Capacity to capture, analyse and report
- Efficient system of data aggregation and flow
- Response to data at all levels